KEY RISKS

General risks of investing in a unit trust fund

Returns not guaranteed	The investment of the fund is subject to market fluctuations and its inherent risk. There is NO GUARANTEE on the investment returns, nor any assurance that the fund's investment objective will be achieved.
General market environment risk	Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors, which will result in a decline in the fund's net asset value.
Inflation risk	This is the risk that investors' investment in the unit trust fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation. This would reduce investors' purchasing power even though the value of the investment in monetary terms has increased.
Manager's risk	This risk refers to the day-to-day management of the Fund by us which will impact the performance of the fund, e.g. Investment decisions undertaken by us as a result of an incorrect view of the market may adversely affect the performance of the fund.
Loan financing risk	This risk occurs when investors finance their investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed money includes investors being unable to service the loan repayments.

Specific risks of the Fund

Interest rate risk	Interest rate risk refers to the impact of interest rate changes on the valuation of debt instruments. When interest rates rise, debt instruments prices generally decline and this may lower the market value of the fund's investment in debt instruments.
Mismatch risk	This risk refers to the non-matching of the maturity date of the Fund and that of the debt instruments it holds. The Fund may invest in some debt instruments with maturity exceeding or shorter than the maturity date of the Fund. The difference in debt instruments maturity relative to the maturity date of the Fund may result in a loss to the Fund.
Liquidity risk	Liquidity risk refers to the ease of liquidating an asset depending on the asset's volume traded in the market. If the Fund holds assets that are illiquid, or are difficult to dispose of, the value of the Fund will be negatively affected when it has to sell such assets at unfavourable prices.
Credit (default) and counterparty risk	Credit risk relates to the creditworthiness of the issuers of the debt instruments and their expected ability to make timely payment of interest and/or principal. Default risk relates to the risk that an issuer of a debt instrument either defaulting on payments or failing to make payments in a timely manner. If the risk materialize, the value of the fund could be adversely affected.
Redemption risk	In the event of large redemptions, the Fund may need to dispose some of the debt instruments to fulfil redemption obligations. If the security is sold when interest rates rise or are expected to rise, the price of the debt instruments will fall. This in turn would depress the NAV of the Fund. The Fund discourages redemptions by imposing a Withdrawal Penalty which is ploughed back to the Fund.
Country risk	Investments of the Fund in any countries may be affected by changes in the economic and political climate, restriction on currency repatriation or other developments in the law or regulations of the countries in which the Fund invests in. For example, deteriorating economic condition of such countries may adversely affect the Fund's NAV.
Currency risk	As the investments of the Fund may be denominated in currencies other than the base currency, any fluctuation in the exchange rate between the base currency and the currencies in which the investments are denominated may have an impact on the value of these investments. Any gains or losses arising from the fluctuation in the exchange rate may further increase or decrease the returns of the investment.
Early termination risk	During the Offer Period, we reserve the right, with the consent of Trustee, to terminate the Fund earlier than the Maturity Date and return to Unit holders the Initial Offer Price per unit and the Application Fee paid in the event that the sales proceeds/amount collected of the Fund at the expiry of the Offer Period is below RM50 million or when the expected return of the Fund does not or may not match or exceed the Fund's benchmark. In accordance with the provisions of the Deed, early termination may also take place after the Offer Period if we are of the opinion that by doing so is in the best interest of the Unit holders.
