MARKET REVIEW (1 SEPTEMBER 2023 TO 30 NOVEMBER 2023)

Global Equities continued to fall in September 2023, as a weakening macro-economic environment, rising bond yields, and renewed inflation concerns weighted on investor sentiment. Developed Market Equities underperformed Emerging Markets, over the period. Across developed markets, the US saw the largest falls, as investors grappled with higher for longer interest rates. Deteriorating business sentiment in the Eurozone also caused key markets in the region to fall sharply. The United Kingdom ("UK") market fared better over the month, supported by rising oil prices.

In October 2023, Global Equities fell as rising bond yields and geopolitical uncertainty weighed on investor sentiment. Developed market equities outperformed emerging markets over the period. Across developed markets, US equities outperformed, driven by another wave of strong economic data. Eurozone and UK saw the biggest falls, as the macroeconomic outlook weakened, as credit conditions tightened, and business and consumer confidence declined. Within emerging markets, weak economic data from China continued to drag performance.

Global Equities rallied in November 2023, supported by renewed hopes for a soft landing. Economic data showed inflation continues to fall across developed economies, whilst labour markets are cooling. Given the positive economic backdrop, developed market equities outperformed emerging markets. US and European ex-UK equities led over the month, encouraged by lower-than-expected inflation figures, driven mostly by fall in energy prices. Strong US economic growth and positive employment figures further boosted investor sentiment. Within emerging markets, China lagged on weaker-than-expected manufacturing and services Purchasing Manager Index ("PMIs"). Technology heavy markets like Taiwan and South Korea rallied over the month.

MARKET OUTLOOK*

Disinflation in the West should continue into 2024, despite some areas of 'stickier' inflation, while growth is slowing. Eastern economies face a more benign growth and inflation picture, with pockets of strength across Latin America and Asia, despite China's slower economic recovery.

Growth in the US has remained surprisingly strong, as economic activity and labour markets have proven resilient. However, we anticipate a slowdown in 2024 as consumer savings dwindle and higher interest rates impact the real economy. The Fed has now likely reached the peak of its policy tightening cycle, and we expect rate cuts from the second quarter of 2024. Growth in Europe has already started to slow, and we expect recession to take hold next year. Sluggish Eurozone economic data and softer-than-expected inflation prints limit the risk of further European Central Bank ("ECB") policy tightening.

In the East, inflation is less of a concern, and areas of supportive policy can help maintain growth. China's economy continues to face a challenging property market and weaker consumer confidence, but further monetary easing is possible, with more fiscal support required to sustain a recovery. In Japan we expect a gradual normalisation of the yield curve.
