Key Risks

| General risks of investing in a collective investment scheme | |
|--|--|
| Returns not guaranteed | The investment of the fund is subject to market fluctuations and its inherent risk. There is NO GUARANTEE on the investment returns, nor any assurance that the fund's investment objective will be achieved. |

| Inflation risk | This is the risk that your investment in the unit trust fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation. This would reduce your purchasing power even though the value of the investment in monetary terms has increased. |
|--|---|
| Market risk | Market risk refers to the possibility that an investment will lose value because of a general decline in financial markets, due to economic, political and/or other factors, which will result in a decline in the fund's NAV. |
| Manager risk | This risk refers to the day-to-day management of the fund by the manager which will impact the performance of the fund. For example, investment decisions undertaken by the manager, as a result of an incorrect view of the market or any noncompliance with internal policies, investment mandate, the deed, relevant law or guidelines due to factors such as human error or weaknesses in operational process and systems, may adversely affect the performance of the fund. |
| Financing risk | This risk occurs when you obtain financing to finance your investment. The inherent risk of investing with money obtained from financing includes you being unable to service the financing payments. In the event units are used as collateral, you may be required to top-up your existing installment if the price of units fall below a certain level due to market conditions. Failing which, the units may be sold at a lower NAV per unit as compared to the NAV per unit at the point of purchase towards settling the financing. |
| Reclassification of Shariah status risk | This risk refers to the risk that the currently held Shariah-compliant securities in the fund may be reclassified as Shariah noncompliant in the periodic review of the securities by the SAC of the SC, the Shariah adviser, the Shariah boards of the relevant Islamic indices or the Shariah adviser of the issuer. It this occurs, we will take the necessary steps to dispose such securities. There may be opportunity loss to the fund due to the fund not being allowed to retain the excess gains derived from the disposal of the Shariah non-compliant securities. In the event that the Shariah non-compliant securities are disposed at a price lower than the investment cost, it may adversely affect the value of the fund. Thus it may cause the NAV of the fund or price of units to fall. |
| Specific risks of the Fund | d |
| Credit and default risk | Investment in debt securities, such as Sukuk, may involve a certain degree of credit and default risk with regards to the issuers. Generally, credit and default risk is the risk of loss due to the issuer's non-payment or untimely payment of the investment amount as well as the returns on investment. This will cause a decline in value of the defaulted debt securities and subsequently depress the NAV of the Fund. Usually credit and default risk is more apparent for an investment with a longer tenor, i.e. the longer the duration, the greater the credit and default risk. It can be managed by performing continuous fundamental credit research and analysis to ascertain the creditworthiness of the issuer. In addition, we also manage the duration of the investment in accordance with the objective of the Fund. |
| Interest rate risk | In general, when interest rates rise, Sukuk prices will tend to fall and vice versa. Therefore, the NAV of the Fund may also tend to fall when interest rates rise or are expected to rise. However, you should be aware that should the Fund hold a Sukuk till maturity, such price fluctuations would dissipate as it approaches maturity, and thus the growth of the NAV shall not be affected at maturity. In order to mitigate interest rates exposure of the Fund, we will manage the duration of the portfolio via shorter or longer tenured assets depending on our view of the future interest rate trend, which is based on its continuous fundamental research and analysis. Please note that although Sukuk is a non-interest bearing instrument, its price movement is |
| | correlated to the movement in the interest rates. As such, investment in Sukuk will have an exposure to interest rates. Even though the Fund does not invest in interest bearing instruments, the interest rate referred herein is to the general interest rate of the country which may affect the value of the investment of the Fund. |
| Counterparty risk | When the Fund conducts over-the-counter (OTC) transactions, it may be exposed to risks relating to the credit standing of its counterparties and their ability to fulfil the conditions of the contracts it enters into with them. Hence, it is generally not applicable to transactions performed through exchanges. We aim to mitigate this risk by performing fundamental credit research and analysis to determine the creditworthiness of its counterparty and impose a credit limit as a precautionary step to limit any loss that may arise directly or indirectly as a result of a defaulted transaction. |
| Liquidity risk | Liquidity risk can be defined as the ease with which a security can be sold at or near its fair value depending on the volume traded in the market. If a security encounters a liquidity crunch, the security may need to be sold at a discount to the market fair value of the security. This in turn would depress the NAV and/or growth of the Fund. Generally, all investments are subject to a certain degree of liquidity risk depending on the nature of the investment instruments, market, sector and other factors. We will attempt to balance the entire portfolio by investing in a mix of assets with satisfactory trading volume and those that accessionally sold accounter poor liquidity. This is proported to reduce the right for the |
| | and those that occasionally could encounter poor liquidity. This is expected to reduce the risks for the entire portfolio without limiting the Fund's growth potentials. |
