Fund Manager's Report

In July 2025, the Fund rose by 0.51%, outperforming the Benchmark by 31 basis points (bps) which was mainly due to the fund's overweight in Industrials and Consumer Staples while we remain underweight in Energy. On a YTD basis, the fund marginally underperformed the benchmark by 5 bps, with the YTD return of -4.90% as the performance was contributed by the overweight in Industrials and Gloves while underweighting materials.

Malaysia's manufacturing sector moved closer to stabilization in July with an improved reading of 49.7pts vs. 49.3pts in the previous month. New orders declined at the weakest rate in 5 months, with the moderation in output the softest since February. Overseas sales expanded for the first time in eight months, spurring higher purchasing activities, the highest in 3 years. Employment levels slipped slightly as backlogs deplete. Cost inflation rose driven by higher raw materials and a weaker Ringgit. Business confidence notched a five-month high, supported by a hopes of demand recovery, but firms continue to express concerns about the potential adverse impacts of muted global economy and US trade policies.

Equity markets regionally seem to have recovered almost fully from Liberation Day tariff-related sell-off in April, and Malaysia is no exception. However, given the current uncertain global environment, we believe near term volatility for Malaysia is expected to continue especially due to the US administration's unpredictability. Renewed concerns over a tariff-driven global slowdown and ongoing legal tussles surrounding Trump's trade policies could weigh on market confidence and pressure Malaysia's growth and earnings outlook. That said, downside risks may be partially cushioned by several supportive domestic driven initiatives and factors. We maintain balanced approach but tilt towards sectors with better clarity of earnings.

The Malaysian Government Securities ("MGS") yield curve shifted lower by 3 to 16bps across the curve in July with the 10-year MGS 7/35 and 30-year MGS 7/55 closed lower at 3.38% and 3.91% respectively following the news of its inclusion into the J.P. Morgan Government Bond Index - Emerging Markets ("GBI-EM") Index by July month end. Overall, interest in the government bonds was generally firm, amidst Bank Negara Malaysia ("BNM") reducing the overnight policy rate ("OPR") by 25bps in a pre-emptive move to shore up growth, in the face of a prolonged period of uncertainty on global growth prospects as a result of the protracted tariff situation. The 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, 15-, 20- and 30-year benchmarks closed at 3.08% (-7bps), 3.17% (-3bps), 3.35% (-6bps), 3.38% (-10bps), 3.65% (-5bps), 3.77% (-3bps) and 3.91% (-16bps), respectively in July. Meanwhile, the Malaysian Government Issue ("MGII") yield curve shifted lower by 2bps to 9bps across the curve. The 3-, 5-, 7-, 10-, 15-, 20- and 30-year MGII closed at 3.11% (-6bps), 3.19% (-7bps), 3.35% (-6bps), 3.42% (-9bps), 3.64% (-bps), 3.74% (-2bps), and 3.97% (-7bps) respectively in July. After the recent rally on the back of OPR cut, the local bond market has stabilized with profit takers emerging looking to lock in gains in view of a resilient growth target and some stability on the trade tariff front. We look to take profit of the government bonds while continuing to have tactical positions in anticipation of the upcoming maturities. With widening credit spreads, our preference remains on corporate segment for better total return. We continue to take profit on the overvalued credits and rotate to primary issuances.
